

The Web Site of The Sacramento Bee

This story is taken from Sacbee / Opinion / Letters to the Editor.

Letters to the editor

-

Published 12:00 am PDT Thursday, July 26, 2007

No Arden Arcade cityhood

Re "Arden Arcade cityhood at risk," July 23: The last thing I want to do is trade my Sacramento, California, address (known worldwide) for "Arden Arcade" and then add another layer of government and duplicate county services, which are functioning quite well now.

Other people who have actually studied the issue seem to feel that cityhood for our little area is not a financially viable idea in the long run, partly because we do not have open space in which to expand. I suspect they are right.

- Carolyn Kneedler, Sacramento